WHOLESALE CATALOG

Hello.

In case we haven't met, I'm Brianna Reagan. I am a local Alaskan artist living and working in Fairbanks, Alaska, where I raise two little humans with my hard-working husband. Together, we have a Siamese cat named Murphy and a red malemute named Koa.

I have been making art since before I can remember, but I turned it into a business in 2010. I've been a solo-preneur since then, and am so proud of everything I've accomplished as a woman-owned company.

While primarily known as a fine artist, I have also discovered a love for design. My fine art and illustration background is a solid foundation that allows me to create unique and memorable designs for merchandise, or gorgeous patterns for home goods.

Together, my fine art and design practices have evolved to create this robust retail catalog full of authentically designed, high quality goods. I invite you to find something you love!

Fine Art & Design

Made by hand

Handmade is something that is made by all of life's experiences. The art I make by my hand is about connecting to nature and inspiring creativity. Every piece, whether created analog or digital, is created by my hand.

USA + AK proud

I source (nearly) all my products from local-Alaskan or USA-based companies. I am fiercely Alaskan, and allow the rough beauty of Alaska to seep into my work. I embrace it on my own terms - painting bones instead of birch trees, and creating weirdness out of the wilderness.

Earth-friendly

I employ earth-friendly materials as often as I can, from the compostable plastic sleeves, to the recyclable packaging elements, and even reused shipping materials. This is my effort to move toward more sustainable products and to decrease the environmental impact my art has on the environment.

CERAMIC MUGS

Forget Me Not

A serene powder blue mug with the state flower rendered in powder blue ink.

Dwarf Dogwood

Intricate green ink highlights the Dwarf Dogwood flower against a crisp white backdrop.

Wild Rose

A delicate blush of pink blooms on a vanilla-colored mug, capturing the charm of Alaska's wild rose.

Bring the beauty of Alaska's wildflowers into your gift shop, home décor boutique, or Alaska-themed store! These Alaskan Wildflower mugs are perfect for customers who appreciate the beauty of the Last Frontier and want to incorporate a piece of it into their everyday life. These beautifully designed 12 oz ceramic mugs have a smooth matte exterior in soft, natural tones and a glossy white interior.

Every mug is screen printed with an original design that celebrates the delicate, yet resilient, flora of the Alaskan wilderness. Perfect for tea, coffee, or hot cocoa, these mugs offer a unique way to enjoy the beauty of nature with every sip.
